

Field Trip for Schools
Four Corners Storytelling Festival
October 13 & 14, 2006

Field Trip General Information

Dress appropriately for the weather. The festival is an outdoor tent event at Berg Park. Fill out the information on the back of this paper before calling to reserve a place.

Busing students to the event?

Register early for the event. Sessions for the Friday and Saturday Field Trip Days are $5 per person for a day of storytelling from 9:00AM to 3:30PM. Youth storytellers from New Mexico and throughout the Four Corners host Field Trip Days. There will be three tents and seating is provided, limited to 1,000.

What is the schedule for the event?

Brochures are available at the Farmington Public Library and a detailed schedule for Youth Storytelling will be available in September.

Did you enter a Youth Storyteller for the Festival?

If you have a student telling a story and would like to introduce him or her, please let us know. Teachers who helped prepare students for the Youth Storytelling event will receive an All Access Pass that includes the workshops. Teachers will need to pre-register for the workshop with the All Access Pass to receive a Workshop Ticket. Space is limited for tent and workshop events. Youth Storytellers telling at the festival will receive an all Access Pass for their families to the event that excludes the workshops. Youth Storytellers performing at the festival must pre-register for the workshop and receive their free ticket.

When is the Field Trip money due?

The money should be received before Wednesday, October 4, 2006. Purchase Orders can be made out to the Farmington Public Library FCSF. Credit cards are accepted. You may reserve your tickets ahead of time. All reservations will be held until October 4.

When and where do I get the tickets?

All tickets will be waiting for you at the festival registration table. No tickets will be distributed before the event.

Tent Etiquette

Please arrive on time and do not leave in the middle of a storytelling session. Tent monitors will be checking for tickets and/or ribbon for each session. Keep your groups together and quiet.

Food

Bring a sack lunch if you like, but some food will be available. The Mayor's Teen Advisory Council will be selling popcorn and some snacks. Drinking water fountains are available throughout Berg Park.

Festival Bookstore

Purchase books and CDs at the Festival Bookstore. Want to hire a storyteller for your school or organization? Please visit the Bookstore for more information.
